

Literacy

This week in literacy the children enjoyed exploring the traditional tale of Hansel and Gretel. Looking at the setting, characters, opening, build up, climax and ending the children changed the main characteristics to plan their own traditional tale on a story mountain. The children came up with wonderful new characters using their knowledge of adjectives to create new magical story plans.

Numeracy

It was all about predicting, measuring, and recording this week in numeracy. The children completed a carousel of activities deciding which object to choose to measure something. They used their problem-solving skills to decide what measurement tool they would need if they wanted to find the weight, length or capacity of an object.

RE

In the liturgical year, it is Pentecost. The children enjoyed listening to and re-enacting the story of the Pentecost with their friends.
