

RE-Families

We talked about our families, who is in our family and the different types of families. The children drew their own family in their books. We discussed the different roles each family member has in their family.

Literacy

We showed our new teacher Miss Smurthwaite our writing skills and wrote about our holidays. We read the story of Flat Stanley a boy who was squashed flat when a notice board fell on him. We used our prediction and inference skills to explore the story.

Numeracy

The story Ten Red Apples helped us to show our number recognition skills and number quantity skills as we counted apples, wrote the total number of apples and decorated trees with the correct corresponding number of apples.
